

FAIR LADY ORATORS.

BRIGHT SPEECHES AT WOMAN'S COLLEGE ALUMNAE LUNCHEON.

A MOST DELIGHTFUL OCCASION.

The Most Successful of the Annual Entertainments Given by the Association—Speeches by Graduates, Teachers, and Others.

The third annual luncheon of the Alumnae Association of the Woman's College was given at the Jefferson on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Covers were laid for 100, and the handsome dining-room of the hotel was beautifully decorated. The number of the alumnae who came from out of the city was much larger than was expected, and the flow of spontaneous wit and reason made the occasion an extremely joyous one.

Those around the table were: Miss Zeno Griffin, Churchward; Mrs. Blenner, Mrs. Julian Thomas, Miss Carrie Savage, Miss Nannie Newell, Mrs. S. N. Houchens, Miss Bentley, Mrs. Gaines, Miss Sweney, Mrs. Jones, Miss Crump, Miss Bessie Hagan, Miss Emma Bowe, Miss Pearl Payauer, of South Carolina; Miss Emma Whiffield, of Baltimore; Mrs. B. B. Van Duren, Mrs. B. Clements, Miss Annie Broadus, Mrs. Ernest Long; Miss Grace Landrum, and Miss Madge Landrum, Atlanta; Miss Birdie Jones, Miss Maria Childress; Miss Benice French, of North her southern sister as something quite apart from the girls she has been brought up among. She likes to hear her speak, for instance, "Woman Suffrage." When she finds that the ideals of the two differ widely, as is sometimes, though not always, the case, she inclines to be tolerant, and is more amused than anything else, at the southern girl's position.

She loves, too, to hear southern girls talk. She listens carefully for every southern expression, exclaims at it gaily, and even tries to imitate it. I find her pronouncing with her accent to sound somewhat foolish and insignificant to us as "mighty." She emphasizes it with a vim and earnestness so different from our light, slurring accent that you would be very much annoyed if she used it with only any delicate little mastery of this art so much that it is difficult to keep within bounds, and not use expressions so provincial that your own sister would be startled to within earshot. And, oh! the interpretation to paint a word or picture too bright. I painted hard against it, but sometimes not successfully. I am satisfied that the least imagination of my northern friends a semi-tropical one, with bright plumeria, birds, palms, fountains, rare old gardens, ruined palaces, &c.

THEY BECAME FAVORITES.

I might go on to illustrate further, but my object is to make you realize the sweet, cordial spirit in which the northern girl receives her southern sister into her midst. In the college, however, I have met many who use sectional names more freely, use sectional names break down completely, and if the southern girl is the least inclined to make herself lovable, she is very apt to be favorite. I wonder if the pleasure of 1000 hours to try this pleasing exercise, the girl could realize the intense delight of indulging further her love for study, of the new and varied fields of knowledge that the education broadening effect life in the college or university will have for her. I believe she
